SUMMARY:

When you feel unsafe going out due to Covid-19 virus, you don't go out. Maybe you're constantly shopping around for a good masks? Maybe the masks that they are selling online are not enough to protect you and your family? There's nothing wrong with being cautious, but it's not something you would want to do all the time when you buy a mask. Why not simply get yourself a compression mask and go outside with confidence and protection of your own home.

The Universal N95 Compression Mask is perfect for everyone. The face cover is made with hydro-freeze material that prevents heat buildup, and the inner material is made with washable microfiber for filtration and easy breathing. For snuggle tight fitting, the compression mask has nose support built-in the face-cover that is made from bio-friendly cork material, an aluminum nose bridge support to prevent slippage, an Exhalation nose valve to allow carbon dioxide to be directly diverted out from the nose. As added comfort, the Compression mask does not use the typical ear loop that one may find in ordinary mask. The compression mask uses dual elastic head straps made with spandex material for elasticity. On each elastic head strap is an ear opening which is a unique feature that prevents ear injury that usually occur when you use the common mask. The Universal N95 Compression Mask comes in Men, Women, and Children sizes.

Additionally, the beauty of the compression mask is that it comes in different standard colors that includes a glow in the dark version for night joggers, cyclists and walkers. It is a durable and washable for laundry without having to throw it away. A win-win solution for the environment and for your pocket.

In a world plague by the Covid-19 virus, the Universal N95 Compression Mask is your shield to the uncompromising planet. It is a good investment for yourself and your love ones.

About the Developer

Jadon Scott of New York is an inventor and like many of us he concerned for his family and friends during these times. He set out to make a mask that was more effective and comfortable than the current offerings. He came up with a solution and created a simple prototype and it proved quite effective. Working with Mars Rising Network, he had the invention refined with the hope of turning this great idea into a commercial product. He is actively seeking a company that would have an interest in partnering with him to get this product on the market.
