A provisional patent was filed and it is in patent pending status.

SUMMARY:

The Kool Kit is a portable cooling pad meant to be placed on the body to prevent or pacify heat flashes. Any time the body feels overheated due to weather or over excursion. It can ben used anytime the user wants to cool down. It is designed to be used anywhere on the head or neck. The replaceable cooling gels are stored in the freezer when not in use. They can be taken with the user in a convenient case that comes with the product. The case is designed to store the units and keep them at a cool temperature.

A heat stroke can be a life threatening occurrence especially in the elderly. The Kool Kit is designed to prevent this very thing, and we project that it will have much use in hospitals, hospices, rehabilitation centers as well as EMT kits. The Kool Kit provides a fast and convenient way to cool the body down in key areas when the user is on the go out in public and other means of cooling down are not available.

The Kool Kit is aesthetically pleasing to the eye and comes in a variety of colors to fit any users tastes. It is small enough to fit inside a medium purse or any waist pack, laptop shoulder case or similar. It is easy to use and fits snugly around the hand. It is made water tight and flexible.

About the Developers

Cleautrice Smith of Los Angeles, CA, like so many of us, love the summertime. But there was one summertime when I was out running errands with a friend and became very overheated. Once inside the store I began to faint. Once I regained my composure somewhat, I filled a bag with loose ice and covered it with paper towels and applied it to my face and neck. Feeling revived immediately. Once in the car, I grabbed a paper from my purse and proceeded to draw the concept of what I would make and give it a name, thus the "Kooling Kit". They worked up a solution and it proved to be quite effective. Working with Mars Rising Network, they had the invention refined to prepare this essential new design into a commercial product. They are actively seeking a company that would have an interest in partnering with them to get this product on the market.
