SUMMARY

The massaging shoe is a prospected invention from the mind of inventor Vimmi. The invention is a simple and stylish solution to many problems that have to deal with being uncomfortable or in pain. The Massaging Shoe would come in all sizes and is a great pair for those of us who often work standing up or sitting down for long periods of time. The way it does this is the wooden massaging balls in the sole of the shoe itself.

Through the clear sole you can see the Massaging balls as well as the pouch and flexible tube that holds them in place. The air pouch sits beneath the wooden massaging ball and allows when pressure is placed on the shoe for the wooden massage balls to push into the bottom of your feet. This is ideal for those who are standing up at all times in their jobs. You can simple shift your weight and have a nice foot massage while on the job.

The shoe is also good for those who have seated jobs, the reason being because when you work a desk job blood circulation can be a problem, So what these shoes would allow is for someone stuck at a desk to be able to roll their feet back and forward, and keep their blood circulating, This will also help keep you awake and help maintain a healthy lifestyle.

There are also many pressure points in the feet the strategically placed wooden balls will hit. The invention itself is entirely affordable to produce as well as is marketable to almost any work industry. They will definitely help keep your day brighter and you in a much better mood.

About the developer

The inventor, Vimmi, lives in El Sobrante, California and had an idea of providing a relaxing massage for people who are required to be on their feet for long periods of time. Vimmi contacted the Mars Rising Network and had a provisional patent application filed and had the invention designed properly so that she may see success with this great idea and turn it into a real product. She is actively seeking a company that would have an interest in licensing the product for a royalty.
